

Evans Vanodine is committed to complying with the requirements of the European Union's Packaging and Packaging Waste Regulation (PPWR) (EU2025/40), which replaces the previous Packaging Directive (94/62/EC).

The regulation introduces harmonised requirements for packaging placed on the EU market, with obligations being implemented in phases through to 2040.

As part of the initial compliance requirements, effective from 12 August 2026, Evans Vanodine has obtained the appropriate Declarations of Conformity (DoC) from our packaging supply partners for the packaging used on products supplied into Europe. These declarations confirm compliance with the regulation's chemical restriction requirements, including limits for heavy metals (lead, cadmium, mercury and hexavalent chromium).

Where required by the relevant regulatory authorities, Evans Vanodine will provide the appropriate DoC in accordance with the requirements of the regulation.

If you require further information regarding our PPWR compliance, please contact us.

Kind regards,

Chris Evans
